DIVISION OF FINES HIT IN REPORT

Findings Made Against Buckland Village Officials

RONEY, WHEELER NAMED

Excess Payments of Funds Must Be Returned

BUCKLAND — (Special) —
Frank Roney, marshal of this village, in the limelight, for several days in connection with charges involving violation of the liquor law, giving liquor to Charles Gawley, Logan-up farmer, in which a fine of $750 and costs was assessed at Wapakoneta, by justice of the Peace B. G. Belcher, after the law enforcement officer was found guilty. Is the central figure in a report made public today by Claren F. Risser, state auditor, involving an audit and investigation of municipal offices for the period from Aug. 2 last to Aug. 28, 1924. Mayor L. Wheeler, is also put under the microscope.

Findings totaling $923.50 are made against Marshal Roney, 1923-24, of which is ordered returned to the village treasury, and $750 to the defendant's trust fund of the village. The report affects the office of mayor as administered by C. P. Clawson and J. E.
Wheeler, and that of S. T. Speer and J. L. Roney as marshal. The report shows that fines totaling $1,175.15 were assessed, of which $1,175.15 was paid to the state, $923.50 to witnesses, $1 to witnesses, $750 to the marshal as 25 per cent of fines, $151.50 costs paid to the marshal, $33.50 costs returned by the mayor, $522.10 unpaid fines and costs, and $248.75 cash on hand Aug. 8, 1924, to balance.

THE RISSER report shows that the village council here enacted an ordinance in January this year providing that 50 per cent of the village's portion be placed in a "Secret Service Fund" to employ detectives and pay attorney's fees in the enforcement of the prohibition laws. Risser points out that whereas 50 per cent of fines collected should be paid into the village treasury, one-half to the secret service fund, the mayor appropriated only one-fourth of the fines in the village treasury and paid one-fourth to Marshal Roney.

The marshal's salary is $25 a year. Risser's report says, "and could not be provided for the payment of secret service funds to the marshal or other persons." The village council of Ohio said that funds set aside from taxes collected, for the hiring of detectives cannot be paid to the village marshal, since he is not an employee, detective or secret service officer. Therefore the payment of $750 to Marshal Roney is illegal.

THE report also holds that $923.50 paid to the marshal to cases is illegal and must be returned. In the case of fees in cases alleged withheld by the marshal, the examiner makes no finding, for the reason that the charges could not be proved on other findings.

At least $21 for assistants not provided for in standard schedule. Risser points out, and indicates made against Roney in favor of defendant.
The auditor says that the mayor has no authority to pay money direct from fines collected, but that amounts must be paid to the county treasurer and paid therefrom, on order. The mayor is joined in the charges against the marshal, for disbursement of money.

Wheeler maintained a system of bookkeeping, Risser reports, using the lack of an audit. He recommends the establishment of a cash book. The report also directed that it is necessary to collect unpaid fines and call attention to the fact that the village has no part of the liquor cases may be prosecuted.

DELPHOS SEEKS EXTRA LEVY

Nine-tenths of a Mill Desired for 1925 Operation

Financial relief for the city of Delphos, whose affairs are in a chaotic condition as Lima, is in sight if a nine-tenths of a mill levy for operation purposes, carries at the polls Nov. 4.

A copy of the resolution under which the question will be submitted to the voters of the county-wide metropolis was certified to the board of elections Tuesday.

As the question concerns the city of Delphos alone it will be printed on a separate ballot.

Delphos council asked the county for $26,700 from 1924 taxes but were allowed only $11-480 by the county budget commission. The town is practically bankrupt.

The only relief, Mayor Leasure was told by the commission, was to put over a special levy outside of all limitations. The nine-tenths of a mill is calculated to produce about $15,000 revenue, from the two Allen-co wards, which will be sufficient to pay running expenses for the coming year, coupled with taxes derived from Van Wert-co. The levy will run for five years.

High schools are also out for more money. A resolution passed by the board of education, submitted the question of a three-mill levy to run for five years to the voters of the district.

The levy is to meet the increased needs of the schools and provide for future expansion.

When the debts contracted this year are paid from the 1925 fund and the bond maturities are met, the city will have less than $100-000 for operating expenses for the year. City Manager C. A.
Bingham says.

Out of a total of $670,768 allocated by the budget commission, $471,960 must be utilized to meet bond maturities, which amounts practically eats the entire amount.

FUNDS DEPLETED

From this year's shortage the city owes various banks $35,000 for policemen's and firemen's payrolls, exclusive of the thousands of dollars indebtedness for maintenance of various municipal departments.

During 1924 the city had an unattached operating fund of $50,000, while during 1925 after all obligations are met the city at the start of the year probably will have about $50,000, according to figures compiled by city officials, who claim that the "revaluation" has decreased the city's fund instead of increasing it 50 per cent as expected.

Various institutions dependent upon the city for financial relief face the prospect of being cut off without a penny. City hospital with a present obligation of approximately $5,000 against the city is confronted with the prospect of trying to struggle thru another year without financial aid.

CITY MAY 'FIRE' EMPLOYEES IN 1925

Bankruptcy Faces Lima in Next 12 Months

OPERATING FUND CUT

Special Taxes Loom; Distress Signals Are Sounded

Wholesale "firing" of city employees during 1925 looms as the city's only alternative in the wake of the $338,505 reduction by the county budget commission from the city's request for $909,573, leaving $570,768 for the year, or less than $100,000 for operating expenses.

City officials admit financial distress with a vengeance, and advise as the only possible method to "pull" the city thru 1925 with little hope for the following year.
Darkened and dirty streets, police and fire departments operating with only a skeleton of the present strength, the street cleaning force a "memory" only, the service department a department with a head and few assistants, and the possibility of city commissioners donating their services presents a gloomy outlook for the coming year, according to city officials, who believe the city will be compelled to turn to one of the following:

SPECIAL TAXES

Reduction of all city departments to slice city payrolls.

Assessment of special taxes to boost the city's revenue, with various tax measures under consideration.

Collection of luxury taxes with automobile owners bearing the greater per cent of the financial burden.

Many cities in financial distress like Lima have collected special automobile parking taxes, wheel taxes and have boosted traffic violation fines 100 per cent along with fines against minor law violators and other offenders.

City officials are devoting much of their time to the study of the course of action to be taken to keep the city operating during the year, other than hint at the precedents established in other cities.

"We are up against it and I don't see what possibly can be done to remedy the financial distress that we are facing," Commissioner John Hinkins stated Tuesday in hinting that "wholesale firing" of city employees might be necessary along with the imposition of special taxes.

Auditor C. H. Churchill admits that "the city is up against it." His appropriation request of $909,573 to the county was the lowest possible figure that could pull the city thru during 1925, according to his announcement when apprised Monday that $570,768 had been allowed from the budget, leaving only $338,505 for the year.

When the debts contracted this
year are paid from the 1925 fund
and the bond maturities are met,
the city will have less than $100-

Princess Ohio Shops In Lima Store Tuesday

All the joys that come with the selection of beautiful clothes are being experienced Tuesday by Miss Ruth Patton, Princess Ohio.

A complete wardrobe of evening gowns, traveling clothes, sport dresses and wraps will be placed before her for her selection during her tour thru the Deisel Co. store, Publican.

Measurements were taken at her home in Delphos Monday afternoon by a representative of the Deisel Store for the evening gown to be made to her order in New York City.

These measurements were telegraphed to the manufacturers and work was scheduled to start early Tuesday morning. It will be sent here by special delivery and final fittings will be made in the Deisel Co. workrooms.

In the shopping tour Tuesday afternoon, Miss Patton was aided in the selection of the many necessities of a Princess who is to attend the International Petroleum exposition at Tulsa, Okla., from Oct. 2 to 11.

Miss Patton is confident she will win the honor of Queen Victoria and The Lima News and the Deisel Store are doing everything in their power to extend to her every possible aid.

During the shopping tour, Miss Patton held an informal recep-

REPUDIATION BY MEANS TAKES NEW TURN

Witness Makes Veiled Threats in Justice Case

PLAN TO CATCH HIGHER-UPS

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — The atmosphere of suspicion which clouded the capital during the senate investigations settled on Washington again today as a result of Gaston E. Means alleged repudiation of his testimony of the department of justice.

Rumors filled the air and during the peak of the "mean-doms" and "daughtery" probes there was no certainty whose political reputation might suffer in development to come.

Charges, counter charges, repudiations and counter repudi-ations have followed with such blazing rapidity that political Washington would like to crawl in a figurative hole and wait for a return to normal honesty.

To get at the background of the situation it is necessary to recall developments of the past week.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, independent vice presidential candidate, when he invaded Ohio last week, gave newspaper men a statement in which he said he expected an attempt by "the Daughtery gang" to intimidate him.

On the heels of this Daughtery charge, at his office in Columbus, copies of a letter to John W.
Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, quoting an alleged statement by Means, former department of justice investigator and star witness of the prosecution in the Daughtery investigation, were received by Davis.

Means, who is now in New York and the matter was further complicated when the attorney said Means had signed some sort of a testimony, "The was last Sunday and Means after dodging to and fro all Sunday afternoon and evening left Washington last night for his home in New York."

Through the investigation of his alleged "Daughtery" means appears to have kept members of the committee, including Belmont and McCarthy, in the dark as to what was going on.

Means points out that he has made no affidavit and points that what was signed was merely a statement for the "Daughtery" in the Daughtery case. Certain letters, alleged to have been exchanged between Means and Belmont, are being produced in the case.

FAILED TO HEED STOP SIGN HERE

Head of Police Department Must Answer in Court

CITY WORKER FILES CHARGE

Result of Arrest and Fine for Same Offense

Charges of violating the city "Stop" ordinance which have been preferred against Chief of Police T. A. Lanker are expected to result in his arrest sometime Tuesday afternoon.

Lanker is charged with having violated the city's new main thoroughfare "stop" ordinance after hundreds had been halted into court and fined for the same violation.

Frank Hitchcock, deputy city electrical inspector, has sworn to and signed an affidavit charging the chief with failing to bring his machine to a stop in Centralav at High-st., as is required by the ordinance. The affidavit was signed in the presence of Judge Neil R. Poling, of the criminal court, Tuesday.

Hitchcock alleges that he was arrested for the same violation only a few hours before Lanker committed it. He said he talked to the chief and asked to be excused for violating the ordinance as he thought he was in the right, but Lanker refused to listen to him and told him to "get it to the judge."

Only a few minutes after he paid the court $4.00 for his mistake, Hitchcock alleges he saw the chief of police ignore the stop sign in Central-av at High-st. and commit the same violation for which he had been fined.

Hitchcock said Tuesday morning that he is ready to produce two witnesses who, if they are taken before the court, are ready to swear that they saw Lanker ignore the stop. He says the chief refused to admit running over the sign and told him and one of his witnesses, who also is employed by the city, that unless they dropped all this "gossip" he would be looking for another job.

Hitchcock was stopped Saturday morning and ordered into court. Before visiting the courtroom he went to Lanker and asked to be excused on the ground that he misinterpreted the law. He said Lanker sent him to the court.

Lanker is also charged with having turned his machine around in the middle of the street directly in front of the fire department on High-st., which is also a violation of the traffic ordinance.

TRAP IS HINTED BY MEANS

erty's single handed campaign to clear his name before the nation of any connection with the Republican scandals.

Daugherty said that, originally he had planned to "play dead" until after the November elections in order that his acts would not be construed as political. He now feels, however, that the whole subject has been opened up by Davis' reference to him in campaign speeches.

PROBERS TO MEET

CAMP PERRY — (By United Press) — A special session of the senate committee investigating the department of justice will be called immediately, Senator Smith of Brookhart announced here today.

Brookhart had just received a telegram from Senator Burton K. Wheeler authorizing the hearing.

Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, is to be called before the reconvened session, Senator Brookhart said, in an attempt to sift the truth from the many rumors, charges and counter charges resulting from Daugherty's open letter to John W. Davis and the alleged repudiation statement of Gaston B. Means.

The senator said he would send a telegram to Senator Ashurst today asking him to call the committee into session.

"Three members can call the special hearing without word from Senators Moore and Jones," Brookhart said. "It is probable that Senator Wheeler will not have to leave his campaign to sit in with us if the other four members are present."

In the previous hearing Daugherty was summoned to appear to give testimony, but he refused, holding that the investigation was unlawful and that the committee had no authority.

Brookhart believes that Daugherty can now be made to testify since he claimed that Gaston B. Means perjured himself.

CROWD BAITED

CONCORD, N. C. — (By United Press) — "I opened the door and the whole crowd fell in," said Gaston B. Means, international sleuth and star witness of the senate investigation of the department of justice, thus described today his latest sensation—the "repudiation" of his testimony before the committee.

"I stand on every word I uttered before the committee," said Means, "and if given the opportunity will make thru documentary evidence, startling revelations connected with this 'repudiation' statement."

Means is here for a visit with his wife and son and plans to return to the capital within a few days.

"On July 8," Means said, "a man approached me (Means gave the man's name) and said that if I would keep quiet and come thru with a statement that my committee testimony was false, I would come out all right and the real people would look after me."

"I baited the crowd along for some time and then finally signed the statement in a New York Hotel. Harry Daugherty was registered at the Waldorf Astoria the day I signed it."

"I didn't read it before I signed. I understood it was prepared by a prominent Washington lawyer whose name I figured in the Teapot Dome investigation. At any rate I defy anyone to produce it now. It is a physical impossibility."

"I'm sacrificing my freedom in doing this to disclose the wrong-doing that exists in the government from the top to the bottom."

Means has been sentenced to two years in jail for defrauding the government but is out on bail. Means said that between the time he was first approached and the time he signed the statement many officials and friends of the administration saw him and "offered me everything if I would retract my testimony."

On one occasion, he said, he talked with the man he said drew up the "repudiation" statement on the street in front of the H. Streeter house where Jess Smith once lived. During the conversation, he said two high officials of the present administration were supposed to be inside the house.

for care of the city's poor and needy in time of sickness is before city officials with little prospect of it being signed as the rate asked by hospital trustees is double the former rate, which rate could not be paid by the city.

The police and firemen's pension funds are practically exhausted. Other special funds are depleted, and with an operating fund of less than $100,000 the city faces virtual bankruptcy in 1925 unless officials devise some method to swell the city treasury, according to commissioners who are unwilling to take the problems into consideration until an official budget statement is received from the county budget commission.

Mainly About People

George Smith, of Houston, Texas, is a guest at the Hotel Blair for several days.

Edward Brannon of N. West-st. who was a delegate from here at the convention of the Holy Name society held at Washington, D. C., last week, has returned. During his stay there he had the privilege of meeting President Coolidge.

DAUGHERTY CHALLENGED — PEORIA, Ill. — (By United Press) — Former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty was challenged by Senator Burton K. Wheeler today to "tell how he was able to spend $50,000 a year in Washington on his $12,000 salary."

Barnstorming in a private car thru the farm districts of central Illinois, the Independent vice presidential candidate repudiated his entire attack upon Daugherty who, he said, "is the best living example of the corrupt influence that has taken over the reins of our government."

"The recent sudden turn of events in our investigation of the department of justice shows how far-reaching Daugherty's influence still has on the department and the courts," Wheeler said.

"Daugherty has given out an alleged repudiation by Gaston B. Means of the testimony he gave before our committee. Incriminating the former attorney general, Means says he did not repudiate his testimony."

"After he testified against Daugherty, Means was continued in a New York court of inquiry. He told me then that he had been approached by Hiram Coan, the detective who was working for the Republican national committee, that Coan wanted him to repudiate his story and that in return Coan would see if Daugherty could help him."

"Later Means told me that he had talked with Coan. Coan had communicated with Daugherty and they had promised to help him. Means said that Hiram Todd, special assistant attorney general, who was prosecuting him, was a close friend of Daugherty. That was the way Daugherty could help him, Means said."

SAFER MAY BE ASKED TO QUIT

Rupture With Philadelphia Mayor is Reported

PHILADELPHIA — (By Associated Press) — Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler was under orders from his physicians today to remain in bed for "at least another week," and unless he obeys the orders, the letter addressed to him by Mayor Kendrick, which, it was said, may affect his status as director of public safety, will not be delivered as soon as expected. The mayor drafted the communication yesterday but withheld it upon learning that General Butler was suffering from a heavy cold, which was described by Dr. Hubley R. Owen, chief police surgeon, who is attending him as "bordering on pneumonia."

Mayor Kendrick said his communication would be delivered to the director personally when he returned to his office. He declined to divulge its contents or to deny or confirm that it would demand Director Butler's resignation.

Close friends of General Butler expressed the belief that he would disregard his physician's instructions and go to his office today. Announcement by Mayor Kendrick that he had prepared a letter to Director Butler and his declaration that "the situation was fast becoming intolerable," caused a stir among politicians, some of whom the director has accused of having attempted to cause discussion between the mayor and himself.

Sale Lost When Teeth Don't Fit

WAPAKONETA—(Special) — Justice of the Peace B. G. Belcher, who is also an upholsterer, proprietor of a used goods store, sewing machine salesman and so forth, has often remarked he sold everything, but admits now he lost a sale on goods—which don't move rapidly—Saturday.

The squirrel's stock didn't fit his customer. A farmer visited the store and asked whether the squirrel had any false teeth in stock. He did. The customer tried every set in the store but failed to find a "fit," so he decided to make a search for the teeth he had lost while hunting.

D. A. R. BRIDGE GOOD MANNERS TEA GIVEN TUESDAY

Second of the fall benefit card parties enjoyed by Lima club and society women was given Tuesday afternoon at the Shady Country club, under the auspices of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. O. E. Seifridge, as regent of the chapter, and Mrs. E. E. Taylor, chairman of the day, were in charge.

Over half a hundred tables were arranged in the living room of the club house for play. At the close of the card games, which began promptly at two o'clock, a two-course tea was served.

Those who assisted Mrs. Taylor during the afternoon were Mrs. T. D. McLaughlin, Mrs. H. S. Moulton, Mrs. Frank Bell, Mrs. Charles Gamble and Mrs. E. L. Kirk.

The money received at the affair Tuesday afternoon will be turned toward the patriotic work to be done this year by the chapter.

Over 100 women are expected to attend the luncheon at the Trinity M. E. church on Wednesday, to be given under the auspices of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the church. Orchestra music will be furnished during the luncheon.

Mrs. A. E. Smith of Ada will be the principal speaker of the afternoon.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:—I am almost 19 years old. I am just when I was only 17 years old, I got a home. My husband would not work after I got him and always went with other girls. I only lived with him four months. I haven't any work and I am out in an application for a divorce. He said he would not live with me because I wouldn't work. I would like to get someone who cares for me, but it seems as if I am going to be a nun. I don't want to be a nun. I don't want to be a nun. I don't want to be a nun.

Miss Smart: I don't dare and I go to school every night to pass the time away and always go by myself. Please tell me what to do. Is it all right for me to go with some one between the ages of 20 and 25?

Have you no desire to affect a reconciliation with your husband? Perhaps since you have been living apart, he has changed his tactics and is now working and would be willing to establish a home for you as he should. If, then, you have no love for him at all and have no desire to live with him again, you should secure a divorce, before going out with other men. Then, too, why not obtain work yourself?

Get some position in an office or factory and then you will be financially independent. From your letter, I am of the opinion that you are worrying more because you do not have good times as have plenty of friends, rather than the fact that you are living apart from your husband and are without work. If you get work, you will not be so lonely. If you can not locate your husband, secure your divorce, so you will be free to do as you please.

Will you please hold me? You seem to have helped me many times. There is a boy who likes me and is in love with me as he always would be. I don't know if I should go with him or not. I don't know if I should go with him or not. I don't know if I should go with him or not.

Just because the young man asks you to go places with him is no sign that he is in love with you. Anxious. And, if you were to accept his invitations, it would not mean that you love him, would it? He asks you to go out, because he enjoys being with you and enjoys your company and probably has no idea of making a home for you. If you like the young man, you can go with him. If you have never been out with him, it would be rather unkind for you to judge him until later.

Marriage between first cousins is forbidden in all the states except Alabama, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia and Washington.

Right After a Severe Illness

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets

Weight—Great

Nothing like the vitamins in Cod Liver Oil to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that. But nobody wants to take the disgusting, horrible-tasting stuff, spitting oil itself, so nowadays, up to date medical men are ordering a tablet of Cod Liver Oil and it surely does the work.

EXPLOSIVES CATAPULT AIRPLANES FROM SHIP

WASHINGTON — The motive force of explosion may supplant that of compressed air in catapulting airplanes from the decks of naval vessels as a result of recent tests at the Anacostia, D. C., air station.

In the new catapult a pistol shot ignites a powder charge which literally "blows" the airplane on which the plane rests to the rail at the rate of 60 miles an hour. The car is stopped abruptly by hydraulic buffers, but the plane continues on its way.

20,000 HOUSES NEEDED FOR DUBLIN RESIDENTS

DUBLIN — Twenty-two thousand houses, numbering almost a third of the city's population, are living in Dublin in one roomed tenements. It is estimated that at least 20,000 new houses are needed.

The municipal commissioners have drafted a scheme to provide for 7,000 families. They propose to clear away old tenements and lay out a number of blocks in flats. Temporary structures will be provided to house the people during reconstruction.

BOARD REPORTS

Estimating board's report for improvement of the following streets was submitted Monday night to city commission and accepted. ### At the Lyric

"Broadway After Dark," the Lyric offering starting Tuesday, is said to be a midnight drama of New York replete with all the glamorous escapades which stir the imagination and which cause thousands annually to exchange their home towns for the glitter and gaiety of Broadway.

The wickedness, the sham, the fascinations and disillusionments of this iron-cold town are incorporated in this screen version of the Owen Davis melodrama. The direction is by Monta Bell, who was associated with Charlie Chaplin in the making of the latter's important picture.

A cast of stellar proportions interprets the Broadway types. They consist of Adolphe Menjou, Norma Shearer, Anna Q. Nilsson, Edward Burns, Carmel Myers, Vera Lewis, Willard Louis and many others equally brilliant. Rex Ingram's sensational production, "The Arab" with Alice Terry and Ramon Novarro, starts a week's engagement at the Lyric Saturday.

O'Brien's Minstrels

A minstrel show is a purely American institution and as such will always get a hearty reception from nearly every theatre fan.

This was borne out Monday night when a large audience greeted the Nell O'Brien minstrels for their first of three performances at the Faurot Opera house.

All the time honored traditions of the minstrel show were carried out in a most pleasing manner and there was not an idle minute throughout the two hour performance.

Such well known stars as "Sugarfoot" Gaffney, Billy Beard and Nell O'Brien bore the heavy work in the different pieces with the able assistance of other members of the company. One of these who deserves special mention is Tex Hendrix who made a most pleasing "female" and an able foil for Gaffney and O'Brien.

All will miss O'Brien should he make good his threat to retire from the stage after this season.

One of the most successful comedies presented in New York City within recent years is "Merton of the Movies" which will appear at the Faurot Opera house the evening of Sept. 30, for one performance only.

With ROOSEVELT IN AFRICA

by W. Robert Foran © 1924 NEA Service Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Robert Foran, newspaper correspondent, accompanied the Theodore Roosevelt expedition into Africa in 1911. They arrived at Khartoum, the gateway of British East Africa, and then made the railroad journey to their first camp on the same crowded Capital Plains. With Colonel Roosevelt as his son, Kermit, and three scientific members of his staff—Major Edgar M. Mearns, Edmund Heller and Allan Loring. After a wonderfully successful shooting trip in the South country, the expedition camps for more hunt at Sangei-Sai, a farm belonging to Commander Frederick Alababara. It is the intention of the expedition to go to America that the expedition is killing huge quantities of game. After a Foran receives a letter from I. Foran.

The letter follows:

The Naivasha, 17th July, 1909.

Dear Foran:

Hearty thanks for the mail, which I thoroughly enjoyed. As for the cable from America, I'll talk it over with you when I come in next Wednesday—when, by the way, I shall arrange with you whether we go out to the government farm on Thursday or Friday. I think all that is necessary to say is, that not an animal has been shot except for food or to be arrived for the national museum, and that as a matter of fact most all have been preserved, and that of course you cannot give exact date of the shooting of a particular creature, as the information usually comes from a date of some days' journey. I don't say anything until you tell me I have had a chance to talk it over together.

Faithfully yours,

Theodore Roosevelt.

CHAPTER XI

Roosevelt at Naivasha

Kermit was the first to arrive Naivasha. He had ridden some eight miles round the northern shores of the lake, and arrived at the Rift Valley Hotel in time for luncheon. The remainder of the party would follow him in next day.

After dinner that night, I offered to initiate Kermit into the mysteries of a new kind of sport—spring-haas shooting by lamp. "You'll love it," he said.

It was a very dark night, and the clouds hid even the stars in view. There was no moon till the early hours of the morning, and so conditions were ideal. Spring-haas shooting has its humors, and Kermit generally accepted of procedure is for the hunter to go out with a shot-gun, with a bicycle lamp attached to his belt.

The spring-haas are attracted to the light, come out of their holes and stand looking at the hunter as if mesmerized by it. Then they jump at them, with only their bright eyes in the darkness guide him where to shoot to the spring-haas are curious little beasts—more like a miniature lion of the Australian kangaroo than a hare. They have short legs, and long hind-legs, with a set for back. They are not for their size, and are burly. Their habits are strictly nocturnal, and they progress in the night exactly like kangaroos, and they are vegetarians in form.

Soon found the sport with his taste, and he revelled in it. However, he did not find it easy to knock one for one generally can only one of their eyes at a time, and the target is by no means a large one.

After shooting a couple of them, Kermit suggested that we have been Kermit, but I said we should try to catch them in a net. We found them in a net at the hotel, and went down from the hotel to the camp in order to meet Colonel Roosevelt and fulfill my promise of the previous night.

I found him already up and dressed, writing in his diary in his tent. We started off at once for the landing stage where a private sailing boat was generally moored. Without saying anything to Colonel Roosevelt, or to the owner of the boat, I had intended to commandeer this vessel for our shooting trip on the lake.

To my chagrin, however, the owner had gone for a sail to Crescent Island, in the center of the lake; but he had left behind a row-boat and a punt.

The row-boat was moored to a pole at a distance of about one hundred yards from the shore, but the lake was shallow so I waded out to it. There was only one oar and a bamboo pole in the boat; but we started forth, with myself pulling the boat as one would a punt.

As good luck would have it I could see the four pelicans swimming about aimlessly about a quarter of a mile away from us. I had seen them at the same spot two mornings previously, and hence my promise to Roosevelt.

We started off gaily enough, but I had not bargained for the difficulties which now presented themselves. It was no easy task to pole that heavy row-boat through the thick reeds, which clung tenaciously about the boat's bow. Roosevelt came to my help, using the single oar as best he could. Before we could get within fair range of the pelicans, they took fright and flew away. We decided to return and have our breakfast, as there seemed no possible hope of getting near enough to the pelicans to shoot them; and the difficulties of propelling that boat were beyond our powers.

THE TANGLE

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO RUTH BURKE, CONTINUED

Sarah told me last night when we were putting that blessed boy to bed, and he insisted that I should undress him, that if John had not decided to come down and bring the baby, she would have asked him to let her bring little Jack to me. She told me he used to grieve for me daily, and she never came into the room that his little face did not light up and fall again when he saw it was not I. The last words he said at night were spoken with a little trembling lip: "I want my pitty muvver."

It doesn't seem possible, Ruth, that I can have a deeper and more astounding love for my own child when it comes than I have for this boy; but if I do, in spite of all I may try to conceal, I know I can not keep it from little Jack. He seems to have an uncanny intuition where I am concerned.

I would not tell all this to John, dear Ruth, even if we were friends with each other. Speaking of friends—I wonder if John and I have ever been friends. We are the most impetuous of lovers, but I don't believe we are real friends. If I should tell my doubts and fears about little Jack to John he would say: "Well, you know you have adopted the baby, it's up to you."

You know, Ruth, his mother is all the time bringing up "What are you going to do when you have children of your own?" It is her almost daily inquiry whenever she sees me with my son.

He is my son, Ruth. I chose him. I did not need to keep him. I did not need to take him and care for him because in my ecstatic love for his father I had brought him into the world and so felt a moral and physical responsibility. No, I voluntarily took him to my heart. I voluntarily took upon myself the responsibility of his life, and I shall never forget it under any circumstances. Surely the good God will not make me unhappy in this loving duty.

Then, Ruth, there is another and perhaps even greater question that has come into my mind. I have been thinking very much lately about it, and I have been asking myself the question over and over again. Is it best for John and me to continue to live together as husband and wife?

It seems to me we are never in each other's society for an hour without finding something about which to disagree. Altho it may be because of my sensitiveness, at times it has seemed to me that I have surprised upon his face a look, when he was talking to Paula Perley or Sally Atherton or other young women, which might be there because he is wondering if these women were not better suited to him than I.

You see I'm rather a serious type. Life means much more to me than just having a good time. To tell you the truth, Ruth, I have dimly suspected there comes a time in every married woman's life when she asks herself the same question I am asking myself.

Men do not take matrimony so seriously; at least they do not seem to do so. When they grow tired and bored and doubtful and unhappy, they get away from it all in some way. Either they take up business more seriously, they go more and more into the company of men, they spend evenings at the club—or, yes, flirt with another woman.

OPPIUM EVIL IS ASSAILED

Limited Production Sought in Persia-Turkey

OTHER CROPS PROPOSED

National Conference Plans to Consider Problem

GENEVA — (By Associated Press) — Mrs. Hamilton Wright of Washington intends actively to continue her endeavors to secure limitation of the production of opium in those countries which grow the poppy plant, despite the attitude of the League of Nations Commission to find any solution of this problem. At a recent meeting of the Opium Commission Mrs. Wright introduced a resolution asking the council of the League to approach the governments of Persia and Turkey to certain whether they are contemplating the substitution of other crops for such opium as is produced over and above the legitimate world requirements, but in view of the objections raised by various European delegates, she withdrew her resolution. The Opium Commission seems to feel certain that there is no practical way of forcing any individual country to curb its production.

WIFE OF LAFOLLETTE TO GO ON SPEAKING TOUR

WASHINGTON — Determined to make a personal appeal for votes in every section he considers debatable, Senator La Follette, independent presidential candidate, turned his attention today to the arrangement of his itinerary. He expects to start out within ten days on a tour which probably will keep him on the move until election day.

Aiding the senator with a series of speeches during October will be Mrs. La Follette. She has accepted an invitation to deliver an address in support of the independent presidential ticket at Mount Lake Park, Md., next Sunday, and arrangements are being made for her to make other speeches during the final four weeks of the campaign.

MOSCOW MOTOR BUS LINE TO REPLACE CARRIAGES

MOSCOW — Moscow, which from time immemorial has depended upon the horse-drawn carriage and the conventional trolley car for its transportation, will soon have its own motor buses. Eight omnibuses of the London type will make their appearance shortly, and it is the intention of the municipal authorities eventually to secure sufficient additional vehicles to establish connection with suburban districts. This will do much, the officials say, to relieve the fearful congestion on trolley cars and trains, and will also encourage part of the population to move to the suburbs.

PACIFIST RALLY BREAKS UP IN VIOLENT FIGHTS

GRIFFSWALD, Germany — A recent pacifist meeting here developed into the noisiest and roughest event ever held in this town. It was an anti-war meeting and the chief speaker was Henri Barbusse, one of the best known pacifists of France. Barbusse started to speak in French, to which students of the university of this city objected so violently that a general riot followed. Many heads were cracked during the affray, and Barbusse had to be rescued by the police and guarded until he left town.

STREET IMPROVEMENT

Improvement of Lane-av from Union-st to Central-av with stone is to be completed by the city at the expense of property owners. The strip to be improved is 830 feet in length and connects with stone filled streets, according to the petition filed by property owners.

LAFOLLETTE ATTACKED BY SPEAKERS AT CANTON

CANTON — Senator Robert M. La Follette, independent candidate for president, was the object of attacks by Senator Simon D. Fess and A. W. Jefferies of Omaha, Neb., members of the Coolidge-Dawes transcontinental tour party, at a meeting here last night following the arrival of the caravan from Alliance. Both speakers emphatically suggested that all persons not satisfied with America and its form of government should take up their residence in Russia.

Senator Fess made a plea for a continuance of the protective tariff system. He lauded the administration of President Coolidge, declaring that "the handling of the financial problems has been the most brilliant in the history of the country and the secretary of the treasury, Mr. Mellon has exhibited financial genius second only to Alexander Hamilton." The caravan spent the night here and left late this morning for Mason, where a stop at noon is scheduled.
